STEPHEN WALTERS

Reminger Co., LPA Managing Partner

A Message From Our Managing Partner

2016 marked another strong year for Reminger, with new office spaces, new faces, and a lot of accolades.

A large number of our attorneys received personal honors and recognitions for their individual professional achievements. Within the last year, 56 of our attorneys were honored by Super Lawyers Magazine throughout Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana as either Rising Stars or Super Lawyers. Best Lawyers in America® recognized 25 Reminger attorneys for 2017.

A number of Reminger's practice groups were ranked at the metropolitan level by U.S. News & World Report and Best Lawyers, while Transportation Law and Insurance Law were once again ranked nationally.

Not only did we have the unique honor of being named as one of the "Top Workplaces in Northeast Ohio" for the sixth consecutive year by Workplace Dynamics and The Cleveland Plain Dealer, but also we were ranked as the #1 Top Workplace in Northeast Ohio Among Midsized Companies for the second year in a row.

We were named to Vault's "Top 150 Under 150" list, which highlights the "best-known and most sought after law firms with fewer than 150 attorneys" for the second year. Vault also ranked us again in the "Top 10 Best Midsize Law Firms to Work For" list.

We moved into new office spaces to accommodate our growth: specifically, in Columbus, Indianapolis, and Northwest Indiana. We have 17 new attorneys.

But most importantly, we continued to earn your trust as your legal counsel. Thank you each and every one of you. We look forward to continuing to serve your legal needs in 2017, and anticipate a bright future ahead.

Capital Law School's course entitled "Depositions" takes practical learning to a new level. Attorneys Kevin Foley and Zachary Pyers developed the class, which was introduced originally in 2015. Since then, it has received notice from the press. The course was featured on an NBC Affiliate, in the Columbus Dispatch and in Capital University publications.

This course teaches law students the basics of interviewing and conducting depositions - skills that make up a large part of many law practices. The unique twist of the course is that it pairs Capital J.D. students with medical students at Grant Hospital, who are learning how to testify in depositions and trials.

The course combines classroom instruction with practical exercises to teach necessary depositions skills, including preparing deposition strategies and outlines; preparing witnesses for depositions; and conducting and defending lay and expert witnesses.

The course serves the needs of both law students developing advanced skills in taking depositions and medical students, who are likely to give depositions during their career.

JULIAN EMERSON & GREGORY GUICE
Who's Who in Black Cleveland 2016 Honorees

Diverse and Inclusive

At Reminger, we value the differences each individual brings to our firm and we appreciate the multitude of ideas that are generated as a result. We understand the importance of diversity and are committed to promoting and maintaining a diverse and inclusive work environment and community. We firmly believe that having a diverse work force enhances not only our ability to anticipate and meet the needs of our clients, but also our profession and our community.

In our efforts to fulfill our commitment to diversity, we have established a committee dedicated to implementing initiatives to recruit attorneys from all backgrounds. Our commitment does not stop at the hiring process; we are committed to helping all of our attorneys succeed as professionals.

For more information regarding our diversity committee or our efforts to promote diversity in the community, please contact Gregory G. Guice at gguice@reminger.com.

Minority Judicial Clerkship Program

Reminger is a proud sponsor of the Minority Judicial Clerkship Program, which offers minority students who have completed the second year of law school to clerk with a judge during the summer months. The Minority Judicial Clerkship Program is designed to:

- Allow judges, law students, and former law clerks to develop close personal working relationships,
- Improve students' analytical, legal research and writing skills,
- Enhance a new lawyer's career opportunities, and
- Permit a new lawyer to participate in the process of shaping the law.

WOMEN'S INITIATIVE AT REMINGER

Promoting the Success of our Firm by Promoting the Success of our Women Lawyers

We established the Reminger Women's Initiative in 2008 to strengthen and further our dedication to attracting and retaining talented women lawyers. Reminger recognizes and values the unique strengths and abilities of our women lawyers and that those qualities serve to benefit the firm as well as our local and legal communities.

Internally, we strive to provide a supportive environment for our female lawyers; externally, we focus on community involvement and marketing efforts to help develop new clients and expand existing relationships. Together, these measures help not only our women lawyers but also the entire firm to thrive and provide an unparalleled level of service to our clients.

Mentoring

Our efforts at helping women attorneys flourish at Reminger begin at day one, when our new associates and law clerks are partnered with a mentor. The mentor serves as a role model and provides the associate with the opportunity to learn from the women who have succeeded in their own careers. Various meetings and events are held to further promote the relationship of our female lawyers.

Flexibility

Reminger supports flexible and non-traditional work arrangements for our female attorneys. Through the years, our attorneys have been able to create individualized programs that meet their professional and personal needs including part-time, flex-time and job sharing arrangements. In fact, Reminger is a past recipient of the Ohio Women Bar Association's "Family Friendly Award" as a result of these efforts.

Opportunity for Advancement

The ability to grow and develop a successful legal career at Reminger is evidenced by the fact that over sixty percent of our women attorneys are partners in the firm. Opportunities to be involved in leadership positions at Reminger are plentiful. Women attorneys are also active in our Management Group and serve as Practice Leaders.

Community Involvement

Reminger also supports community involvement and marketing efforts to help our women lawyers develop new clientele and expand existing relationships. Our female lawyers are leaders in the community and involved in various organizations throughout the state. Our women are actively involved in planning, attending, and supporting community events designed specifically for women professionals.

For more information regarding our Women's Initiative, feel free to contact Co-Chairs Bethanie Murray at bmurray@reminger.com or Carrie Masters Starts at cstarts@reminger.com.

WOMEN'S INITIATIVE AT REMINGER

Mentor/Mentee Mondays

Reminger's Women's Initiative continued our community-based effort entitled "Mentor/Mentee Mondays." As part of this effort, our women attorneys not only work together toward developing their own careers, but also to help other women find fulfilling job opportunities.

As a volunteer for El Barrio, Reminger attorney Michelle Sheehan, along with Women's Initiative Co-Chair Bethanie Murray organized Mentor/Mentee Mondays. It involves our Women's Initiative members in Cleveland helping El Barrio's clients succeed in the job interview process by conducting mock job interviews and reviewing resumes with them once a month. The majority of their clients are women either on welfare or trying to improve their current life situation.

From left, Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court Judge Eileen Gallagher, Reminger Shareholder Michelle Sheehan and attorney Ronnie Garotoli conduct a mock interview with Ahlem M. Zaaed.
